Thanks for coming!

I was driving through the country
On a lovely Autumn day;
The sun was shining through the trees
In a special kind of way.

The trees were all dressed up in splendor
With many colors of every style.
I just had to stop and linger
And look toward Heaven for a while.

Only God could have created all this beauty
I had seen that special day.
That's why I just had to stop and praise Him
On that special Autumn day!
